Safety measures turn violent in Africa

JOHANNESBURG — Police fired tear gas at a crowd of Kenyan ferry commuters as the country's first day of a coronavirus curfew slid into chaos. Elsewhere, officers were captured in mobile phone footage whacking people with batons.

2. Click on Library or Group button

The screenshot displays the PressReader application interface. On the left is a sidebar menu with categories such as Countries, Languages, and various topics like Wildlife, Art, and Technology. The main content area features a 'Featured' section with a large article from 'The Globe and Mail' titled 'FLAMES DEVASTATE' and a grid of other publications including 'The Guardian', 'StarMetro Vancouver', 'Canadian Geographic', and 'Vancouver Magazine'. A 'Top Magazines' section is visible on the right. A white login modal is centered over the main content, titled 'Welcome to PressReader'. It includes social login options for Bell, Facebook, Twitter, and Google, as well as a 'Library or Group' button highlighted with a green arrow. The modal also contains input fields for 'Email address' and 'Password', a 'Stay signed in' checkbox, and a 'Sign In' button. A 'New User? Sign up now' link is at the bottom of the modal. The top of the app shows a 'Publications' header, a search bar, and a 'Sign In' button.

3. Select your sponsoring library from the menu/search box

The screenshot displays a mobile application interface with a search box and a library selection menu. A green arrow points to the search box containing the text "naperville". The search results show "Library-Naperville Public Library" with a location pin icon. Below the search results, there is a promotional message: "Would you like complimentary access to PressReader? Visit one of our partners and connect to a PressReader HotSpot. Find the nearest HotSpot...". The background shows a newspaper page with the headline "CMHC head defends to" and "Chinese envoy says it's up to Canada to thaw diplomatic relations". The right side of the screen shows a grid of magazine covers, including "The New Antic", "Soccer 360", "Vancouver Magazine", and "Travel".

5. Sign up for a free account on PressReader to unlock far more features available on our platform. Save topics, share, comment, and add favorite titles are just some of the personalization features.

The image shows a mobile application registration screen titled "New User". At the top left is a "Cancel" button. Below the title, there is a text prompt: "Tell us a bit about yourself. We'll create a public nickname. You can change it later." The form contains several input fields: "Email address", "Password", "First Name", and "Last Name". Below these fields, there are two checkboxes under the heading "Allow email communications": "General updates" (with subtext "New titles, new features, and other cool updates.") and "New issues and topic trends" (with subtext "Choose from your saved topics and favorite publications below."). A line of text states: "By registering for a PressReader account, you agree to the Terms of Use and the Privacy Policy". At the bottom of the form, there is a large green button labeled "Create my account". Below this button, there is a link that says "No, thanks." followed by the text "I don't want the awesome bonus account features. Without an account, you can still read PressReader's entire catalog." At the very bottom, there is a link that says "Existing User? Please sign in". Two green arrows point from the left towards the "Email address" field and the "Create my account" button.

6. Or skip this step by simply clicking on “No, thanks” and enjoy reading thousands of publications right away.

8. A successful connection is indicated by a green cup on the top left side and a welcome message
