Physics Phor Phun

with Dr. Bradley Bobbs, PhD, Physics, UCLA; BS, Physics, Harvey Mudd College

A free, continuing Zoom class presented by the Friends of the Calabasas Library covering topics including

Philosophical Mysteries of Quantum Physics, Lasers I Have Loved, and more, and with audience participation in questions, interactive exercises, and You Asked For It

Replete with cartoons, jokes, trivia, and historical and personal anecdotes, class lectures promise to be entertaining as well as enlightening, and are designed to be understandable by any adult, regardless of science or math background (or lack thereof). They are aimed at an adult audience, but are also appropriate for exceptionally inquisitive teens.

Thursdays, September 22nd and October 27th at 6:00 p.m.

To RSVP and receive the Zoom link, go to the Library's website at calabasaslibrary.org.

Dr. Bobbs has a long career researching laser and electro-optical physics in the L.A. area, and has been Adjunct Professor of Physics at Moorpark College and California Lutheran University.

Bradley has been an active Calabasas community volunteer since 2002. He is past President and current Vice President of the Friends of the Calabasas Library.

For further info, see Facebook group "Bradley Bobbs Physics Lectures" and email him for past video recordings at Dr.Bobbs@gmail.com.
